Essential Oil Research

JEOR

Journal of Essential Oil Research

The Journal of Essential Oil Research is the world authority on modern research on essential oils. In 1996, this Journal published 702 pages of research, by far the largest amount of research in this specialized field. The reports not only include new findings on familiar and new essential oils, but provide important information on developments in instruments and techniques that are rapidly advancing the study of essential oils. For a subscription or a sample copy, fill in the form below and mail or fax to Allured Publishing Corporation.
